Organic	Sauvignon Blanc	2011	"A core of fragrant sweet grapefruit, grass, herbs and minerality -- this is Sauvignon unlike Sonoma or Marlborough, New Zealand, or Bordeaux -- it's the best from Chile. The flavors dance on the palate and resonate on the finish. Grapes are organically grown in the San Antonio Valley. Note the back label: "A wine symbolized by a bicycle and ruled only by nature's cycles." Workers ride bicycles to the winery and the vineyard -- there are no carbon emissions from cars. The labels are made from recycled paper. This is the future of wine. Now." Sandra Silfven / The Detroit News / USA
Organic	Sauvignon Blanc	2009	"Cono Sur is one of the prettiest wineries I've ever visited. Their commitment to growing grapes organically is fervent and this succulent Sauvignon is a killer deal." Leslie Sbrocco / Epicurious / USA
Sustainable Agriculture	Sauvignon Blanc	2008	"Pale gold. Gently smoky scents of apple, pear and tangerine. Fleshly and broad, with nicely concentrated orchard fruit flavors and a late note of bitter peach pit." Josh Reynolds / International Wine Cellar Mar-Apr. 2009 / USA
